

THE LOUISVILLE WEEKLY JOURNAL.

LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 29, 1858.

VOLUME XXIX.

NUMBER 26

THE WEEKLY JOURNAL
PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY
PRINCE, HENDERSON, & OSBORNE,
TWO STREETS, BETWEEN BROAD AND GREEN.

EDITORIALS.—In Advance.—Daily Journal and Courier, Boston, Mass., Oct. 26, 1858. Price, 25c. Total, 30c. Courier Daily, Boston, Nov. 1, 1858. Price, 25c. Total, 30c. Evening News.—In Advance.—Daily Journal and Courier, Boston, Mass., Nov. 1, 1858. Price, 25c. Total, 30c. Evening Post.—In Advance.—Daily Journal and Courier, Boston, Mass., Nov. 1, 1858. Price, 25c. Total, 30c. Advertiser.—Evening Advance.—Evening Journal, Boston, Mass., Nov. 1, 1858. Price, 25c. Total, 30c.

ALL advertisements must be paid for in advance or assumed by a responsible person in this city. This rule will not be violated from.

OPPOSITION CONVENTION.

The Americans and Old-line Whigs of Kentucky, and all other who are desirous of uniting in the overthrow of the present corrupt administration of the General Government, are requested to meet in convention at Louisville, on the 22d day of February, 1859, for the purpose of forming an Opposition Ticket for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and other State officers.

For the matter of more ability, as is more important, the Buchanan Administration ranks justly among the very poorest which the country has known.

We will read the reports of the Senate with some care, and we are sure that the whole world will be well satisfied.

Indeed, for incapacity and infidelity, we are sure that we would not just the whole batch, throwing in the President's measure, against any man in the Senate.

Opposition to the President's measure of a great and dangerous people. In this respect, the best of the lot are worth the criticism that world can them up.

The manage, we believe, is the ablest, and the Postmaster's report the boldest; but between these extremes, degrees will not make so much difference in the mass case. A word or two more, we must have.

The report of the Secretary of the Navy is clear.

The most workmanlike of the whole, though it is not so good as his report, has been given by the Secretary at the head. How far short of John P. Kennedy did Mr. Toucey's report of last year fall, How far short of it, indeed, is the report of the Secretary.

The Secretary of the Treasury's report is a dry and frigid as the sources of the revenue it is intended to sum up.

Alexander Hamilton used no such financial jargon when he "summed up" the national resources; if he had, most certainly, he would have been a master.

Indeed, the financial report of the Secretary of the Treasury is a great mass of figures.

It is clumsy and commonplace in style as it is in detail.

It is ill-arranged, and ill-expressed.

It is inept, and it is a sorry excuse for the report of a financial genius.

It is a poor and feeble effort.

It is a poor and feeble

